    - 10 burritos were given to the front office to enjoy for the week.
    - 30 were packaged for the council's general meeting in April.
    - This left around 30 to either sell or freeze.

- Respect Life Committee:
  - Over the Mother's Day weekend the committee will be passing out flower seeds and baby bottles to the mothers after each Mass. Volunteers are needed.
- 40 Days for Life devotional campaign.
  - The Spring 2018 campaign finished on March 25, with the wrap-up devotional email going out on March 26.
    - While Reports are still coming in, the local 40 Days for Life campaign leadership tell us that as of now, they're aware of 490 babies in 354 locations around the world whose mothers have rejected abortion and chosen life.
    - In many cases, all it took was the simple act of showing up to pray on the sidewalk.
    - Additionally, Mike gave some cumulative results since the campaign's inception in 2007 (see attachment pg.16).
  - The next one will be the Fall 2018 campaign.
- Bishop Sheridan's Respect Life Dinner:

- Scheduled for October 16.
- The council will have a table.
- The featured guest speaker will be Ms. Alveta King, the niece of Dr. Martin Luther King.

g. Youth Report – Alan Brown/Ben Stancati

- Mike McGinnis had approached Alan Brown about getting some of the members of the Pax Youth Group to join the Respect Life Committee.
  - At the present only one has stepped forward, Joelle Regnery.
  - While a start, Alan is working on getting more involved.
- KOC Stewardship Scholarship Program:
  - Overall the council received 9 requests for applications, 2 were returned, 1 awarded.
  - Michael Burkett, Uncle Ben Stancati, Matt Bahneman and Alan Brown met on March 24 to judge the applications and to engage in a discussion of each question.
  - Efforts were made to ensure the applications were anonymous by covering up the names of each. The judges walked away on the 24th with applicant 2, Austen Yarosh, as the potential winner based upon the initial weighted scoring.
  - Nevertheless, KOC criteria specifically state that 5 judges are necessary to score. Therefore, two more were needed. Tim Pimmel and Homar Alvarado both volunteered to fill the requirement by independently judging the applications over the Easter weekend. FYI, Tim and Homar did not meet with the previous judges or each other.
  - Based on the tallied results the council had a winner, Austen Yarosh, edging out Nick Lombardi by a difference of 14 points. The weighted scores were 220 to 206 respectively.
  - Upon Grand Knight Bill Hensen’s approval of the process, an announcement was sent to the front office to be placed in the Sunday bulletin.
  - In addition, Alan planned on sending both Austen and Nick thank you letters along with a $50 gift certificate for participating.
  - Finally, an email was sent to the council announcing the results.
- The KOC Free Throw Contest:
  - The State Free Throw event was held on March 24, 10am to 3pm, at Holy Family High School in Broomfield.
  - While Addie Fesker and Kelton Burns from the Pax parish did well, unfortunately they did not advance to nationals. Nevertheless, good show and well done.

h. Newsletter

- As our newsletter, Bill Hensen will continue to send the monthly meeting agenda into state.
- Bill Hensen mentioned the council’s website that was developed some time ago by Chris Kennedy. He recently did a review and found that it is in dire need of being updated and improved. Bill recommended the establishment of a communications officer to help make this a valuable tool.

X. Advocates Report – Dave Petteys

- Dave announced that Jim Egan is now the Deputy Advocate.
- He also mentioned that some of the rules and guidelines that govern the various officer positions are in need of updating and/or deletion.
- There is nothing else to report.

XI. Unfinished Business

- Roger mentioned that the council has $4,500 dollars collected from the Thanksgiving Basket drive that needs to be spent before the end of June, which is the end of our fraternal year. Additionally, Roger made clear that this is a budgeted line-item and, therefore, did not require a vote to spend.
- Concerning where to spend the $4,500, in the course of the discussion it was decided that $1500 will be given to the following: the Pax Food Pantry, Catholic Charities, and Pax's St. Vincent DePaul ministry.
- And once again, since the $4500 was already a budgeted line item, no vote was necessary.

XII. New Business

- The council membership in attendance made a decision on where to spend the $4,500.

XIII. 4th Degree Report – Roger Giudici

XVI. Good of the Order

  - Alan provided a brief summary of an article from the Journal of American Medical Association (JAMA) that addresses the physical death of our LORD Jesus Christ from a medical and physiological perspective. Historical medical evidence supports the Gospel authors' contention that Jesus was in fact dead when taken down from the cross (see attachment pg.17).

Worthy Grand Knight,

Congratulations! Thanks to your council's membership recruitment efforts from December 1, 2017 through February 28, 2018, you are eligible to receive a 9" x 12" portrait from the Knights of Columbus Holy Family Prayer Program.

We are currently in the process of sending out portraits to just under 14,000 district deputies, grand knights and council officers who earned this recognition. This figure is larger than we anticipated, thus there will be a minor delay as we obtain and assemble the necessary materials to complete this mailing.

Kindly be advised that you should expect to receive your portrait via standard mail no later than April 30, 2018. As always, we encourage you to visit our website at www.kofc.org and click on the "For Members" button for resources to help your council enhance its membership recruitment strategy.

On behalf of the Fraternal Mission Department, we sincerely thank you and your council for your continued efforts to grow our Order.

Vivat Jesus!

On the Physical Death of Jesus Christ

William D. Edwards, MD; Wesley J. Gabel, MDiv; Floyd E. Hosmer, MS, AMI

* Jesus of Nazareth underwent Jewish and Roman trials, was flogged, and was sentenced to death by crucifixion. The scourging produced deep stripelike lacerations and appreciable blood loss, and it probably set the stage for hypovolemic shock as evidenced by the fact that Jesus was too weakened to carry the crossbar (patibulum) to Golgotha. At the site of crucifixion his wrists were nailed to the patibulum, and after the patibulum was lifted onto the upright post, (stipes) his feet were nailed to the stipes. The major pathophysiologic effect of crucifixion was an interference with normal respirations. Accordingly, death resulted primarily from hypovolemic shock and exhaustion asphyxia. Jesus' death was ensured by the thrust of a soldier's spear into his side. Modern medical interpretation of the historical evidence indicates that Jesus was dead when taken down from the cross.

(JAMA 1986; 255:1455-1463)

THE LIFE and teachings of Jesus of Nazareth have formed the basis for a major world religion, (Christianity) have appreciably influenced the course of human history, and, by virtue of a compassionate attitude toward the sick, also have contributed to the development of modern medicine. The eminence of Jesus as a historical figure and the suffering, and controversy associated with his death has stimulated us to investigate, in an interdisciplinary manner, the circumstances surrounding his crucifixion. Accordingly it is our intent to present not a theological treatise but rather a medically, and historically accurate account of the physical death of the one called Jesus Christ.

SOURCES

The source material concerning Christ's death comprises a body of literature and not a physical body or its skeletal remains. Accordingly, the credibility of any discussion of Jesus' death will be determined primarily by the credibility of one's sources. For this review, the source material includes the writings of ancient Christian and non-Christian authors, the writings of modern authors, and the Shroud of Turin.<sup>1-40</sup> Using the legal-historical method of scientific investigation,<sup>27</sup> scholars have established the reliability and accuracy of the ancient manuscripts.<sup>28,27,29,31</sup>

The most extensive and detailed descriptions of the life and death of Jesus are to be found in the New Testament gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John.<sup>1</sup> The other 23 books of the New Testament support but do not expand on the details recorded in the gospels. Contemporary Christian, Jewish, and Roman authors provide additional insight concerning the first-century Jewish and Roman legal systems and the details of scourging and crucifixion.<sup>5</sup> Seneca, Livy, Plutarch, and others refer to crucifixion practices in their works.<sup>5,28</sup> Specifically, Jesus (or his crucifixion) is mentioned by the Roman historians Cornelius Tacitus, Pliny the Younger, and Suetonius, by non-Roman historians Thallus and Phlegon, by the satirist Lucian of Samosata, by the Jewish

Talmud, and by the Jewish historian Flavius Josephus, although the authenticity of portions of the latter is problematic.<sup>26</sup>

The Shroud of Turin is considered by many to represent the actual burial cloth of Jesus,<sup>22</sup> and several publications concerning the medical aspects of his death draw conclusions from this assumption.<sup>5,11</sup> The Shroud of Turin and recent archaeological findings provide valuable information concerning Roman crucifixion practices.<sup>23-24</sup> The interpretations of modern writers, based on a knowledge of science and medicine not available in the first century, may offer additional insight concerning the possible mechanisms of Jesus' death.<sup>2,17</sup>

When taken in concert certain facts—the extensive and early testimony of both Christian proponents and opponents, and their universal acceptance of Jesus as a true historical figure; the ethic of the gospel writers, and the shortness of the time interval between the events and the extant manuscripts; and the confirmation of the gospel accounts by historians and archaeological findings<sup>26-27</sup>—ensure a reliable testimony from which a modern medical interpretation of Jesus' death may be made.

GETHSEMANE

After Jesus and his disciples had observed the Passover meal in an upper room in a home in southwest Jerusalem, they traveled to the Mount of Olives, northeast of the city (Fig 1). (Owing to various adjustments in the calendar, the years of Jesus' birth and death remain controversial.<sup>28</sup> However, it is likely that Jesus was born in either 4 or 6 BC and died in 30 AD.<sup>11,28</sup> During the Passover observance in 30 AD, the Last Supper would have been observed on Thursday,
